

Physics 5A (Lecture 2) Discussion Sections

Department of Physics and Astronomy, UCLA

Teaching Assistant: Jinyan Miao

I am a third-year Ph.D. student in Physics. I do theoretical condensed matter physics, studying emergent magnetohydrodynamics for topological spin texture, and non-Hermitian spin transport in magnetic systems. I earned my B.S. degree in Mathematics and Physics (double major) from the University of Michigan in 2024, and a M.S. degree in Physics from UCLA in 2025.
